STEEL MEN JOIN WITH LABOR TO STOP IMPORTS

PWA Awards Two Large
Contracts for Steel to Firm
Importing German Products

PLAN OFFICIAL ACTION

German Manufacturers Able to Undersell Because of Low Wages Paid

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12 — (INS) — Steel and labor leaders in the Pittsburgh section and in other regions joined hands today for a battle to prevent further importation of steel from Germany by the Public Works Administration.

Aroused by action of the Federal agency in awarding two large orders for sheet piling to a corporation which imports German products, steel and labor leaders girded for a "showdown" with PWA.

The executive committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute will meet in New York this week for discussion of the question and may file a formal protest. Labor has entrusted the work of making protests in official channels to its representative in Washington.

Steel and labor leaders, although they declined to be quoted individually before official action is taken, asserted their belief was that it was unfair for an agency created with dollars of American taxpayers to relieve unemployment in this nation, to make its purchases in Germany. Such a course, they argued, will further reduce recovery in America and increase unemployment.

German manufacturers, it was explained, are able to undersell American producers because of extremely low wages paid labor under the Nazi regime and because of government subsidies. Steel destined for exportation is carried as ballast at extremely low rates under orders of the German government, it was pointed out.

The two awards which aroused the ire of steel and labor leaders were made to the Kloeckner Steel Corporation, an importer of German steel. One was a $20,000 order for sheet piling for use on an approach to the tri-borough bridge in New York and the other a $9,000 order for piling for a bridge at Morehead City, N. C.

As an indication of the extent to which German manufacturers can undersell American producers, it was pointed out the lowest American bid on the Morehead City project was 52 per cent higher than the German bid.

"It is much worse for our own government to take such a course than it would be for an individual company," a spokesman for steel companies in this district said. "If Uncle Sam would buy his steel here in America, the money raised by taxation for the PWA would be widely diffused to manufacturers and transporters of iron ore, coal, limestone and other raw materials, thus giving work to thousands of Americans. This is only fair and what we should expect."

PWA officials in Washington asserted their hands were tied because by law the tariff on steel was fixed at $4 a ton with 80 cents more for fabricated steel. Under the plan accepted by Harold Ickes, PWA chief, bids of American steel companies are accepted if they do not exceed foreign bids by certain percentages fixed on a graduated scale. For orders of $10,000 or more, the differential was 15 per cent.

Among the unsuccessful bidders for the Morehead City contract were the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, of Pittsburgh; U. S. Steel Corporation and Bethlehem Steel Corporation with plants at Bethlehem, Johnstown, Steelton and other Pennsylvania communities.

Schedule Being Discussed Because of the Many Activities

MAY CHANGE HOURS FOR MORRISVILLE SCHOOL

OTHER NEWS NOTES

Schedule Being Discussed Because of the Many Activities

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 12—Because of the many extra activities in which the students of the Junior and Senior High School participate after school hours, a change in the hours school is to be in session is being considered. A vote has been taken by the parents and students and if it is found favorable the new time will call for the morning sessions from 8.45 to 11.45 a. m. and from 12.30 to 3.15 p. m. The length of school hours will remain the same but the sessions will begin earlier and end 30 minutes earlier in the afternoon.

An interesting address on her travels in Europe by Mrs. Charles H. Boehm and a comprehensive paper on Current Events by Mrs. Fred H. Ewald featured the monthly meeting of the Morrisville Women's Club held in Summerseat. Reports of the committees were given prior to the program. Announcement was made that the next meeting of the club will be in the form of a card party November 19 at Summerseat.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will hold an all day meeting at Legion Home Thursday, November 14, when the ladies will make garments to be used in connection with their welfare work. Mrs. George McAuley is chairman of the committee in charge. The Auxiliary will also hold a card party in the Legion Home December 6 with Mrs. Clarence Bodine as chairman.

Pinocle, five hundred and bridge will be played. There will be many excellent prizes. The following committee is in charge: Mrs. Leota Woolf, assisted by Mrs. Sadie Clark, Mrs. Anna Clark, Mrs. Ida Reed, Mrs. Lilly Mullen, Mrs. Bertha McKenna and Mrs. Jane Fish.

Students of 10-C section of the High School enjoyed a "doggie" roast to Washington Crossing, Pa., a few evenings ago. Kenneth Miller, of the High School faculty, served as chaplain. Those who enjoyed the party were: Joan Clemens, Betty Papendin, Thelma Walsh, Betty McKendrick, Betty Kiernan, John Bleasdale, Edwin Grant, Eleanor McCordle, Nellie Ruskey, Helen Tiger, Louise Sibby, John Leedom, Edwin Price, William Everett, John Stradling, Joseph Nawalinsky, Norman Cryer and Donald Marrazzo.

JOINT VOCATIONAL SCHOOL UNIT FOR DOYLESTOWN AND VICINITY DISCUSSED BY SCHOOL DIRECTORS IN SPECIAL SESSION; 30 ATTEND THE MEETING

County Superintendent J. Harry Hoffman Expresses Views

GREAT NEED STRESSED

Community Will Be Better Able to Serve the Boys and Girls

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 12—Plans for making possible a joint vocational school unit were discussed when 30 men and women from nine school districts assembled in Doylestown high school Friday. William H. Satterthwaite, Jr., president of Doylestown school board, presided, and in the discussion the point was brought out that a joint vocational school unit will serve as a possible solution to the educational problem of the county seat and nearby section.

M. C. Permar, a member of the New Britain Township School Board, suggested that it would be a fine thing to have a study made of the new proposed joint vocational unit by a committee composed of one member from each of the boards represented. This action was put into the form of a motion by E. H. Webster, of New Britain borough, and seconded by Dr. Adolph Berg, of Doylestown township.

School directors from Doylestown, New Britain borough, Doylestown township, Wrightstown and Warrington townships, and Chalfont attended the meeting, as well as Assistant County Superintendents A. S. Rutter and Charles H. Boehm, and R. Chapman Carver, principal of the Buckingham schools.

President Satterthwaite, who welcomed the men and women, as chairman of the meeting, explained that the high school population has gotten so large that an over-crowded and intolerable situation is at present existing in the local high school.

Something, he said, will have to be done in order to keep the school functioning so that it can meet requirements. At a meeting of the Doylestown School Board some time ago, President Satterthwaite submitted a plan of a proposed joint vocational unit which will house a business or commercial unit, homecraft or home economics, industrial or manual training and vocational agricultural unit. The latter phase of high school education is not obtainable in any Bucks county school at the present time.

Newtown Woman Overcome By Smoke While In Bed

NEWTOWN, Nov. 12—Mrs. Charles Schultz, wife of the proprietor of a restaurant at Centre avenue and Sycamore street here, was overcome by smoke yesterday as she lay asleep in her home above the restaurant. FIRST TO CELEBRATE

(By "The Stroller")

William Warner, automobile dealer of Wood and Washington streets, claims he was the first to celebrate the signing of the armistice in 1918 and this was the reason:

It was 2.30 in the morning and the Warner garage had been robbed. "Bill," as he is known to his friends, was aroused from his peaceful slumbers. He armed himself with a gun, got out on the roof and fired at the robbers.

The firing of the shot aroused Warner's neighbors and soon others came into the street armed and ready to take over the burglars.

Declares Trial Unfair

Washington, Nov. 12—Declaring that he was denied a fair trial, guaranteed by the Constitution, Bruno Richard Hauptmann today appealed to the Nation's highest legal tribunal. Pushing for a rite of the review of his conviction of the murder of Colonel Charles Lindbergh's infant son, drawn by his lawyers was formally docketed in the Supreme Court. A defense of his trial at Flemington was expected to be given the court by the State of New Jersey, which has twenty days to answer Hauptmann's petition.

The high court will act on the petition soon after New Jersey's answer is filed. A ruling is expected by Christmas. If the petition is denied, Hauptmann faces death.

Hauptmann's lawyers declared that "mobs controlled the trial and charged that the presence of Colonel Charles Lindbergh in the court room was prejudicial to him."

The petition, filed by Egbert Roscrans, C. Lloyd Fisher and Franklin A. Pope, counsel, declared Hauptmann was denied "due process of law and the protection of the laws guaranteed under the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States."

The petition reads: Paragraph No. 1—Because of "the hysterical mob spirit by which the jury was surrounded in the entire conduct of the trial." Paragraph No. 2—Because of the "picture which was presented to the jury during the conduct of the trial." Paragraph No. 3—Because of the daily presence of Colonel Lindbergh, "which undoubtedly influenced the jury and presented to them a picture of a bereaved father." Paragraph No. 4—Because of the inflammatory remarks of Attorney General David Wilentz and because Judge Trenchard's charge to the jury "portrayed manifest approval of the State's theory," and was argumentative.

ASK COUNCIL TO HALT EXTENSION OF HOUSE LINE

Jefferson Avenue Residents Want "Building-Out" Prohibited in 300 Block

REFERRED TO SOLICITOR

Permit to Be Withheld Until Attorney James Renders An Opinion

Building restrictions again came before borough council last night when 26 residents of Jefferson avenue petitioned council to prohibit anyone from building or extending their property beyond the line in the 300 block, which now marks the building line, with the exception of two instances.

The petitioners informed council that a property had recently been sold and that it was reported the new owner contemplated extending the building out to the sidewalk and that such action would greatly mar the appearance and decrease the value of the other properties.

Councilman Fry and Councilman Winslow urged action be taken, but upon vote of council it was decided to ask the borough solicitor for an opinion. On motion of Councilman Winslow it was decided to withhold a permit for such a building, until the opinion was obtained from the borough solicitor.

Police committee reported police officers made 11 arrests during the month of October. Two were fined, four held for court, two discharged, two sent to county jail, and one turned over to parents.

There were 56 lodgers given shelter, 18 small street lights reported out, five are lights, and one door was found unlocked.

Chief Jones turned over $6 for football games played on Sundays. Councilmen absent were Vandegrift, Roche, Fallon, Spezzano and Howard.

GOOSEBONE PROPHETS

Washington may be the official as well as the political capital of the nation, but Harrisburg, Pa., claims the title of the nation's weather capital. This has no reference to it well to state promptly, to the scientists who sit on the top of tall buildings and make weather maps for daily consumption. Harrisburg is not that kind of a weather capital at all. It is the capital of the prophets who speak by the bone of the goose on what is ahead of us weatherwise.

And not what is ahead of us for a day or a week or a month, but for a season. They are the marathoners of soothsaying. Let scientists confine themselves, if they must, to weather forecasts of the moment; the gooseboners, when autumn's half done, will tell you, if you ask, what the weather next winter has in store for you.

In fact, they will tell you whether you ask or not. What if you should never ask? The true gooseboners are not to be caught by any tricks like that. Knowing something the world ought to know, they no sooner have communed with the goosebone than they mount their housetops and tell what they have heard. And this is what they're broadcasting from the Harrisburg area:

Hard winter is ahead. Goosebones have turned dark and when they do that it's time to begin laying in—if you live in the Harrisburg area—an extra supply of sauer kraut, firewood and whatever else you may consider essential to a shut-in winter.

And when the goosebones say the goosebones have turned dark, they don't mean in spots only but all over. So if winter fairs you unprepared you can't say the gooseboners didn't warn you.

MILL-COIN NUISANCES

Not all is well with the sales tax in Missouri. That state, it may be recalled in order to collect taxes of fractions of a cent on small purchases, coined milk-bottle caps, or pasteboard counters resembling them, in its own image, each worth a tenth of a cent. Citizens were supposed to supply themselves with these cardboard mills and use them to pay the sales tax.

But it seems that merchants are complaining that many citizens, making small purchases, merely smile when they are asked to pay the tax, and depart without doing so. But as the merchant has to pay the tax to the state, a multitude of these transactions leaves him uncompensated and bearing, himself, the burden instead of transferring it to the purchaser. And Missouri doesn't know quite what to do about it.

For a war that hasn't been declared, the Mussolini adventure in Ethiopia seems terminally realistic.

League of Nations sanctions take some things for granted. One still becomes entangled in spaghetti at his own risk.

A farm expert says there is no substitute for dirt. Still, the pulp magazines used to get along with blood and thunder.

A coast dancing master has invented a new dance for three persons. How does Hollywood feel about the old triangle drama, set to music?

When the easiest way is the best way . . .

THERE are no two ways about it! Certainly the easiest way to get the most for every dollar you spend is to buy products that you know about through the advertisements in your daily paper. You don't have to go out and look for buying opportunities. The advertisements bring them to you. And all you need do is consider the facts, compare values and decide on the soap or the sedan that best fits your judgment and your pocketbook.

Certainly the best way of making your money go farthest is to buy merchandise of proved value. Advertised merchandise. Merchandise that is bought and used by many people. Merchandise that must be superlatively good enough for its maker to keep calling it to the attention of people day after day and year after year.

This is the service—of convenience and profit—that the advertisements offer you every day. It will pay you to read them regularly and take advantage of everything they can do for you.

and "over-loaded teaching situation" must be changed and improved.

Dr. Cressman explained that general science should be available to all students and that the home economics girls should have it in special classes in which they may approach the study with relation to the home, all of which is impossible now because of the crowded conditions.

Commercial students, in addition to their first year of commercial arithmetic, are expected to take additional mathematics, but are unable to do so because of the crowded conditions. Health classes do not meet as often as they should simply because as Dr. Cressman expressed it "classes can't be held on the roof."

In four years 58 boys and 26 girls were eliminated from the present senior class which will graduate in June with 95 members. Dr. Cressman is positive that many of the girls and a large number of the boys could have been kept in school if they could have been offered vocational training of some sort.

"This year two boys, who were unable to profit by the academic course, quit school because they could not find themselves in a vocational or industrial field. Vocational agriculture, in a section which is as agriculturally well known as this, is a necessity. It should be optional, but at the same time available for those who wish to study it."

"Just because a boy's father is a farmer does not mean that he must take agriculture any more than if a boy's father is a plumber that he must study plumbing. I am frankly worried now about a boy who is roaming about in the community, because he was not fitted for academic instruction and I was not able to place him in any of the vocational or industrial fields."

The County Seat educator also stressed the fact that although the sexes are practically equal—that is, almost the same number of boys as girls when a class begins as freshmen—by the time of graduation the girls far outnumber the boys. Many of the boys drop out because they are not fitted for academic work and cannot pursue vocational or shopwork courses.

J. Harry Hoffman, who has served as County Superintendent of the Bucks county schools for the past 26 years, stated that so many boys and girls are hungering for vocational training.

"The outside districts become joint owners in a vocational unit school, and I urge the home districts to participate in what they need. It would be a salvation to reclaim a lot of the young people and give them the benefits of a vocational and industrial unit," said Mr. Hoffman.

"I am not speaking for Doylestown alone. Quakertown is on the verge of not taking any more outside students. I think it would be a crime to raise a boy today without giving him a high school education."

"What I have to say will apply to several other school districts in Bucks county as well as Doylestown. It would be ideal for Quakertown, the center of another splendid educational community."

County Superintendent Hoffman pointed out that for years Bucks county boys and girls who wanted to study vocational subjects such as agriculture, had to attend either the Lambertville, N. J., or Hatfield High Schools.

"For years I have been asked 'Why not have a vocational school in our own county?' Yearly the trouble cases in the schools are increasing. Pupils like to do something with their hands. I know of one boy, a problem case, who shingled his father's house, built a hen-house and took an old automobile apart—and yet in school he was a problem. In a vocational unit school he would not have been a problem."

Details as to the cost of a vocational unit, operation and situation, will be carefully studied by members of the committee. The original cost of the building, which will house the commercial, home economics, agricultural and manual training departments, will be based on the assessed valuation of the school districts. The upkeep will be based on the ratio of the number of students attending annually.

President Satterthwaite emphasized the fact that something must be done about the present overcrowded conditions in the local high school or it will merely mean limiting the attendance of out-of-town students each year by some arbitrary plan.

BRISTOL BOXER POUNDS WAY TO VICTORY OVER CHAMPION GOODWIN

By T. M. Juno

Entering the ring with an air of confidence which helped to guide him to victory, Harry Davis, Bristol's Black Bomber, scored his most impressive amateur boxing victory by beating the amateur light-heavy-weight champion, Hull Goodwin, Sigma Theta, in three rounds last night in the All-Star show sponsored by the St. Ann's Athletic Association in the Italian Mutual Aid arena.

Every seat in the house was occupied to see the Bristolian make good his boast that he would fight anyone in the amateur rank, champs or no champs. He outpunched Goodwin from the start and throughout the entire contest did not let the champion crack a single telling blow. The only effective weapon used by the champ was to tie up the local colored ace and try to batter him in the clinches.

Davis had the champion in a semi-grogy condition in the final session when he found his opponent's jaw for two straight rights and followed with a stinging left. The blows really hurt Goodwin and he appeared to be losing ground fast at the final bell. The localite matched the champion punch for punch and there was no doubt as to whom the victor would be at the finish.

Davis was the only Bristol youth to snare a victory in the tilts. Sammy Baiocchi, Vince Della and Tony Puccio all bowed in defeat with Baiocchi suffering his first knockout of his career. Another Bristol favorite, Harry Graber, East Side, lost the decision by foul when he struck his opponent while he was down. Graber was leading the fight at the time.

The bouts were all fast and furious and by far the best show seen here this season. The gladiators were in there to give action and they certainly accommodated. Time and time again a fighter was on the verge of being put away only to come back strong and make a grand finish.

This was more than true in the bout between Bobby Hinchcliffe, Kensington, and Gabriel Gallo, Defiance, of Wilmington. Twice Gallo was holding his head in a grogy condition and almost ready to fall, but on each occasion he would suddenly give a spurt and rock Hinchcliffe with lefts and rights. Hinchcliffe was awarded the fight on his showing in the first two sessions, the third being given to the Delaware boy. Hinchcliffe's best round was the second when he staggered Gallo with a series of lefts to the jaw. The Defiance boy appeared as if he would drop but rallied and began to chase the Kensington battler around the ring, swinging wildly as he did it.

The winning streak of Sammy Baiocchi, St. Ann's, was snapped by Johnny Fitzpatrick, of the North East Shrine Club. Fitzpatrick had a jab which kept the Bristolian away all night. Baiocchi was kayoed after two minutes of the final round when he rushed in to fight the Shrine Club youth at close quarters as that jab prevented him from swinging long blows, his most effective punch.

The fight was well evened at the time of the knock-out. Fitzpatrick carried the first round with Baiocchi taking the second. Before the fatal punch a right to the jaw, put away Baiocchi, he had floored his adversary with a stinging left under the heart.

The Tommy Boylan and Tommy Paxson fight did not last long. Boylan of the West Side Club, flattened Paxson with a series of rights and lefts in the southwest corner of the ring after one minute and twenty-four seconds of the first round. Paxson is from the Kensington Club.

Experience was the main factor which enabled Vernon Woodland, Sigma Theta, to crack the winning streak of Vince Della, St. Ann's. Della had a record of three straight knock-out victories before bucking up against the colored ace from the Sigma Theta club. Woodland out-punched the Bristolian from the opening gong.

Della pummelled the colored boy's stomach continually throughout the three rounds but the Sigma Theta youth did not weaken a bit despite those hard lefts of Della which sank into his broad back. The colored boy's best round was the final stanza in which he socked and rocked Della with a volley of lefts followed with two mule-kick rights. Della shook Woodland with a left before the bell which ended the fight, rang.

Harry Graber, East Side, had the better of his milling with Benny Silicata, Defiance, when he lost his head and continued to hit the Wilmington youth while he (Silicata) was on the mat. Graber had floored Silicata twice and on each occasion the Defiance youngster rose after a short count. When a right sent Silicata down, for the third time, Graber continued to swing and hit his opponent, with the result that Referee Ed Marsh gave the contest to Silicata on a disqualification. Graber shook Silicata plenty in the first round but the Delaware boy always came back swinging.

A knock-down in the first round helped Charles Shea, Northeast Shrine, to capture the nod over James Hughes, West Side. Hughes was floored in the first round in the slugfest match which was close throughout. A rally in the final two minutes of the fight also helped to sway the decisions of the officials.

117 lb. class—Johnny Aiello, Defiance, scored a victory over Tony Puccio, St. Ann's, in 3 rounds.

147 lb. class—Joseph Lombardo, Northeast Shrine Club, won over William Hussie, Chelton Club, in three rounds.

George Morrow, amateur middle-weight champion, gave a poor exhibition of a champ when he was decisively out-pointed by Mike Evans, Neighborhood Club, in the eighth bout of the night. Evans recently was crowned junior middle-weight champion. Morrow was out-pointed from the first round. Evans possessed a jab which kept Morrow away throughout the nine minutes of milling. His one-two punch made the amateur champion back away almost continually. In the final round, it was all Evans'. He battered the champion unmercifully and on one occasion plastered Morrow with four hard rights with a comeback. One of the officials made a mistake in the marking of his ballot which gave the fight to Morrow but after a conference a check-up was made and it was found that Evans had scored the most points.

In the battle between two aggressive ring warriors, Joseph Lombardo, North East Shrine Club, defeated William Hussie, Chelton Club. The first session of the bout went to Hussie when Lombardo took his opponent's punches without retaliating. Hussie's left caught Lombardo flush on the jaw before the close of the round, staggering him. The second and third rounds went to the North-eastern, who whaled his adversary hard about the head. Hussie was floored before the final gong sounded.

Tony Puccio, St. Ann's, and Johnny Aiello, Defiance, put up a scrappy contest from start to finish. At the close, despite a gallant rally by the Bristol youth, the Wilmington battler was given the decision. Puccio was knocked down in the second round with a left to the chin. He recuperated quickly and before the close of the session was battering Aiello. It was the margin of points in this round which gave the fight to the visitor as in the last canto, Puccio rallied and his continual one-two's had Aiello backing away and holding on until the final minute of the bout when both boys stood toe to toe, swinging for all they were worth.

The officials of the bouts were: Referee, Edward Marsh; Judges, James McGurk and James McGinley; timer, Joseph Palernga; physician, Dr. Joseph Levy; Inspector, Joseph Brown; and announcer, Patsey Moffo.

The next bouts will be held on Monday night, November 25.

JAYVEES TOP RECORD FOR SCORING HERE

By Jack Orr

Flashing power, deception and speed at every turn, the Bristol High Jayvees defeated a weak Trenton Cathedral Junior Varsity eleven by the score of 40-0, on the former's home field, yesterday.

Scoring six touchdowns and adding four points, the J. V. club broke the high scoring record for the season at Hertzler stadium. The record before yesterday's fray was Bristol High's 33-0 triumph, in their opener with the Orange and Black of Falls.

After being held for one period, the Hares of Bristol started their scoring. Three times they counted in the second stanza, another in the third period, and added two more in the final quarter.

Tony Orazi, diminutive back of the Cardinal and Gray, counted a pair of the touchdowns. He scored his first from the five yard mark and added another in the last period as he accepted a lateral from Ray Phillips and galloped fifty yards for the score. Orazi scored Bristol's first and last touchdown.

Paul Vandegrift, making his football debut, scored the Cardinal and Gray second six-pointer as he picked up a blocked kick and raced over the fifteen yards for the score.

The most spectacular count of the game came, however, when Jack Evans galloped 77 yards around end to score. Evans was given perfect interference in his run and not a man touched him.

Dan DiMidio scored another in the third period, and the last two touchdowns came when Hardy Johnson made his first score of his football career, and Phillips tossed his lateral to Orazi for the count.

On the six attempts at conversion, they all were tried by hitting the line. DiMidio made a pair of them, while Orazi and Hardy Johnson made the other two.

The Junior Bunnies now have a record of two victories, one defeat and one scoreless deadlock for the year. Next week they close their season as they play the Morrisville Pup-pies in a preview of the annual Turkey Day classic.

J. DOUGHERTY TRAINING HARD FOR NEXT BOUT

Joe Dougherty, slashing welter-weight of the Harriman Club, is training hard for his return bout with Preston Garnett, the colored sensation from the East Side Club of Philadelphia, to be staged at the Croydon Arena next Wednesday. Dougherty, realizing that he lost the fight the last time by not being in the proper condition, is determined to come into the ring in great shape.

Match-Maker Moffo is working on another program and hopes that it will be better than last week's show, if possible. A number of bouts have been rematched and if the boys pass the doctor's examination some real action is promised.

The Rescue Squad, which is the real benefactor behind the promotion of the boxing shows, is striving hard to raise funds for the purchase of a new ambulance, and hopes that entertainment can be furnished to keep the crowd attending regularly.

ST. ANN'S GRIDDERS TO MEET

Members of the St. Ann's football team are requested to be present at the clubhouse tonight at 6.30 o'clock. The "Saints" will play the Stanford A. C. team next Sunday on the local gridiron.
